New York State Department of Labor Employment Counselors

New York State Department of Labor Employment Counselors provide complete employment counseling services to customers in need of special assistance in determining and realizing their occupational potentials.

Employment Counselors also provide no-cost vocational counseling and career development information to individuals looking for employment.

Interview techniques and testing devices are used to assess an individual's vocational needs and capabilities as well as help them understand and resolve any problems related to obtaining employment.

To make an appointment with a local Employment Counselor, please contact the FMS Workforce Career Centers at: (518) 842 - 3676.
